Delegates Sing "On the Banks of the Wabash" After Ralston's Name is Presented by VanNuys

(By United Press)
Madison Square Garden, N. Y., June 26—"Our own Al Smith!"

The mention of the governor's name touched off an explosion in Madison Square Garden just thirty-two minutes after twelve today unprecedented in the history of the great political convention.

In a solid mass the New York delegation leaped to its toes as Franklin D. Roosevelt concluded his speech placing Smith in nomination. From every corner of the garden there arose the deafening shriek of sirens, blare of horns and whistles and shouts of thousands.

The parade got under way with New York's delegation in the van.

Walsh obtained order at two o'clock after the demonstration had lasted one and one-half hours, and the call of the roll of states was resumed. Senator Thomas E. Baid of Delaware in a brief speech placed in nomination former United States Senator Saulsbury of Delaware.

The call of the roll of states proceeded to Illinois when Lewis Stevenson nominated former secretary of the agriculture and treasury, David Houston.

Indiana was called next on the roll and Frederick VanNuys of Indianapolis mounted the platform and placed in nomination, Senator Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana, the first, second and apparently last choice of Tom Taggart for the presidency.

VanNuys got away to a flying and popular start by saying he would keep his remarks within the limit of a single printed page. His speech was frequently interrupted by scattered applause. Reaching the climax of his brief presentation, VanNuys turned and pointed to a large oil painting of Indiana's favorite son, which was lifted to the speaker's rostrum, introducing Samuel M. Ralston.

In the band left "On the Banks of the Wabash" was struck up softly. Miss Anna Case, who has become the outstanding hit of the convention, came forward again and led in the

ROBERT E. MANSFIELD HEADS THE CHAUTAUQUA

Elected President by Board of Directors at Meeting to Prepare for Coming Assembly

DONALD B. BALL SECRETARY

New officers were elected at the meeting of the new board of directors of the Rush County Chautauqua association Wednesday evening and plans for the annual chautauqua in August were discussed.

Robert E. Mansfield was chosen as president, to succeed Walter E. Frazier; J. T. Arbuckle was re-elected vice-president. Donald B. Ball was elected secretary as successor to J. H. Scholl, and Bert L. Trabue was re-elected treasurer. Other members of the board are Glen Foster, Miss Nora Sleeth, O. R. Zimmer, Norman Crum, Amos Baxter, and A. M. Taylor.

The board decided to have the roof of the coliseum painted before the coming session and have other minor improvements made, so that the building will be in first class shape for the annual assembly, which is expected to be one of the best ever held in Rush county.

The matter of having the roof painted and other improvements that are needed were referred to the building and grounds committee.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—The official program for today's session of the Democratic convention follows:

Convention called to order by the Hon. Thomas J. Walsh, permanent chairman, at 10:30 a. m., daylight saving time.

Invocation by the Rev. George Caleb Moore of the Madison Avenue Baptist church.

Continuation of roll call by states for nominating speeches for candidate for president.

Resolution for the election of Democratic national committee and national committee women and providing for their tenure of office.

Report of committee on platform and resolutions.

Adjournment.

PLACED RALSTON IN NOMINATION

Fred VanNuys Paid High Tribute to Indiana Senator But Confined Remarks to Short Speech

POSSESSED OF RARE POISE

He is Rugged American of Middle-west, Intrepidly Honest and of Seasoned Fearlessness

(By United Press)
Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—Paying high tribute, but confining his remarks to the shortest nominating speech of the day, Fred VanNuys of Indianapolis placed Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana in nomination today. Van Nuys said:

"On behalf of the united and loyal Democracy of Indiana, I desire to place in nomination for the presidency the name of a man who is both available and dependable in this hour of necessity.

In 1912 he was elected governor of Indiana by a plurality of approximately 200,000. In 1920 President Harding carried the state by 185,000. In the last election this man once more organized the political complexion of the Hoosier state and was elected United States senator by 50,000.

"As governor of Indiana he made an unparalleled record for economy and efficiency. He left over $3,000,000 in the state treasury, and the state got out of debt for the first time in 82 years.

"As United States senator he has shown himself possessed of rare poise and purpose. Had he been president of the United States during the long trying months just passed, he would not have remained stoical and silent. He would not have broadcast silence to an outraged and expectant people, but would have led them with a dynamic and not a static spirit of Americanism.

"We know this man from Indiana. We need him at the head of the nation's affairs today. He is a rugged American of the middle-west, intrepidly honest and of seasoned fearlessness.

"On behalf of the nation which hangs expectantly upon the results of this convention, we present the name of Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana for the presidency."

Eight Candidates Are Placed in Nomination

New York, June 26—Candidates for the presidential nomination who had been formally placed before the Democratic national convention up to late this afternoon were:

Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, William G. McAdoo of California, Governor Smith of New York, David Houston, Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, Senator Ralston of Indiana; Governor Davis of Kansas.

F. D. ROOSEVELT PLEADS FOR SMITH

Asserting Career Possessed Much of Romance of Lincoln, He Places Governor in Nomination

APPEALS FOR WIDER SERVICE

He Would Satisfy all Classes and Regain Lost Faith of American Public Opinion

(By United Press)
Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—Asserting his career possessed much of the romance of Lincoln's life, and declaring that it is not the intention of his campaign managers to try and nominate Al Smith by a wave of emotion, Franklin D. Roosevelt placed in nomination the name of "our own Alfred E. Smith.

Pointing to Smith's record in the state as governor and the high regard in which he is held, Roosevelt pleaded:

"Give this man the opportunity of wider service. I guarantee he will make the dry bones rattle in Washington and that no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of scorn at our executive machinery."

Smith would satisfy all classes as president, Roosevelt said, and he would regain the lost faith of American public opinion.

"With him we can win. This governor of ours is the most dangerous adversary that the Republican party ever had to fear and you owe it to the nation to choose a candidate whose name spells victory," he continued.

At San Francisco you who were there came to know him as one greatly loved by his state, whose personality and picturesque rise to high office produced as you will remember a spontaneous wave of good feeling among the delegates from every section of our land. Today he has become more than a favorite son. He is known throughout the nation as one of the real leaders, of whom millions of Americans regardless of party are proud. It has been suggested that we would attempt to sweep him through to victory at this convention upon a wave of emotional appeal.

Let me assure you at the outset that I shall make no such endeavor.

In the very suggestion, however, there is tribute to the strength of this man. There is no need for me to portray the profound love which goes out to him from every class and every section of the community. If you would know what the hearts of the masses hold for him, ask anyone; when you leave this session ask the woman who serves you in the shops;

L. Link Oldest County Crop Reporter In Country

L. Link, president of the Rush County National bank of this city, is the oldest voluntary county crop reporter for the United States department of agriculture, in the country, according to "The Official Record" a weekly paper published by the department. Mr. Link has been a reporter for 54 years. The current issue says:

Of the 300,000 voluntary crop reporters for the department, composed mainly of farmers, many have been in the organization more than a score of years. Leonard Link, of Rushville, Ind., has been a county crop reporter for 54 years. Second place on the honor roll of "Old and faithful crop reporters" goes to W. T. Richardson of Clarksville, Tenn., who has served as a county reporter for 53 years. Among other old-timers are M. W. Williamson, of New Market, Va., and Martin Hoagland, of Hutchinson, Kans., who have 49 years of service to their credit; Adam Davenport, of Cookeville, Ga., who has served 48 years; F. W. Honck, Madison, Minn., 46 years; J. M. Fiekle, Lake City, Iowa, 45 years; and Frank Merkel, Beirne, Ark., 40 years.

THEY GOT LESS THAN $200

Bandits Would Have Escaped With $25,000, but for Police Arrival

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—Bandits who raided the L. S. Ayres department store early Wednesday escaped with less than $200 loot, the management of the store announced today.

Had the arrival of police been delayed a few minutes the bandits would have escaped with from $20,000 to $25,000 in cash and merchandise they were ready to load in auto when the officers came upon them.

Thomas Thompson, arrested as a suspect stuck by his story today that he had just arrived in Indianapolis from Cincinnati and driven his car up to the curb at the side of the Ayres store when the police pounced upon him.

Officials admitted they had nothing against Thompson but circumstantial evidence.

Labor and League of Nations Plank Advocates Demand Recognition in Democratic Platform

NO REPORT BEFORE FRIDAY

Anti-McAdoo Forces Lining up to Renew Efforts to Name Klan Specifically in One Plank

(By United Press)
United Press headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, N. Y., June 19—Presentation of the platform to the democratic convention is now scheduled for tomorrow.

After working through most of the night and for several hours today, the drafting sub-committee was still hard at it while the Smith demonstration was in progress at the garden. All but the two principal planks, the Klan and the league of nations, had been virtually disposed of and the committee decided to recess at three p. m. until tonight.

The sub-committee will then report to the full committee and the Klan and league planks will be finally threshed out by that body.

United Press Headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, New York, June 26—

As the resolutions committee reconvened at 11 o'clock today, to complete drafting of the platform, there were several indications that all was not so peaceful as first reports forecast. Labor began inquiring about Bryan's war referendum plank. The A. F. of L., it was learned, was prepared to make a fight on the plank providing it specifies for such a referendum by the United States alone.

The League of Nations advocates were also lining up strong for a determined fight for an out-and-out endorsement of entrance into the League of Nations without the qualification that a referendum should be held. Meantime the anti-McAdoo forces were lining up to renew their efforts to name the Klan specifically in the anti-Klan plank.

It was expected that the sub-committee would be tied up in its deliberations throughout the afternoon.

There was some talk of a night session for presentation of the platform but the chances seemed to be that it would not be ready for presentation to the convention before tomorrow.

After an all night struggle, marked by sharp differences, the drafting committee today brought for the Democratic platform for 1924, completed.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE CONFUSED

Collision at Perkins and Fourth Streets Causes Damage

A Ford truck, belonging to Ed Haywood and driven by Emerson Warfield struck a Buick sedan, driven by John Wyatt near the C. L. & W. railroad in Perkins street late Wednesday afternoon causing slight damage to both machines.

Wyatt was coming down the hill at a moderate speed and Warfield, going east in Fourth, turned abruptly north into Perkins and ran directly into the Buick. Bumpers on the Wyatt car kept it from being badly damaged although the front fenders were bent slightly. The Ford truck received the worst of the blow. However it was not badly damaged.

Witnesses said that Warfield was going at a good speed and that he turned the corner with the intention of parking on the left side of the street in order to deliver a package, thus causing both drivers to get confused. Wyatt turned to his left and at the same time Warfield turned to his right causing the collision.

SECOND TRIAL OF BERT WILSON HELD

Some Trouble is Experienced in Obtaining Jury in Case Heard by Special Judge

MAY TERM ENDS SATURDAY

Effort is Being Made to Clean Up Docket so no Cases Will Hold Over Until September

The May term of the circuit court is drawing to a close and the jury was being used today for the last time until next September, as the case of the State against Bert Wilson, charged with the illegal sale of liquor, was being heard before Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, special judge in the case.

The May term closes Saturday, and an effort to clean up the docket is being made, so that there will be no urgent cases left over until fall.

The case today was being tried for the second time, as when the defendant was tried before, the jury failed to agree. A special panel of 25 jurors were ordered and reported for service this morning, and considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining the twelve men.

Judge Sparks Wednesday heard the evidence on three divorce suits, granting one decree and taking the other cases under advisement. The case of Eva Stewart against Jackson Stewart was heard, and the defendant defaulted, resulting in a divorce being granted and her former name of Eva Marie Willis, being restored.

Evidence in the divorce suit of Benrice Dolan against Vern Dolan was heard, and each side presented several witnesses, and Judge Sparks will render a decision later. The same action was taken after the court had heard the suit of Vicia Tucker against Charles L. Tucker.

Alvin Clark has been ordered to appear Saturday on a contempt of court charge, following the request for the citation by his divorced wife, who charges that he has failed to obey the orders of the court concerning the payment of support money for minor children.

Judgment amounting to $93.80 and costs has been entered in the case of the International Harvester Company against Bert T. Osborne, the action being on a note.

SEN. ROBINSON MAY RESIGN

Likely to be His Answer to Suspension From Country Club

Washington, June 26—Senator Joe Robinson, Arkansas, suspended from the Chevy Chase Country Club for punching Dr. James Mitchell in the eye on the golf links, may resign from the club, it was believed here today.

While the Arkansas senator has refused to say anything about the incident which occurred when Mitchell and his party "drove through" Robinson and his colleagues, Senators Tom Walsh, Kendrick and Jones of New Mexico, he is known to feel that under similar provocation he would punch anybody, even Mitchell again.

BOND HEARING IS STILL UNDECIDED

Tax Board Representative Had to Leave Early And Will Finish Evidence Within Ten Days

ON CITY $30,000 BOND ISSUE

E. J. Myer, Underwriter's Representative, Proves Good Witness For City, on Fire Equipment

Evidence on the hearing of the proposed $30,000 bond issue was not completed Wednesday by T. P. Tillman, special representative of the state board of tax commissioners, sent here to hear remonstrators against the city administration on their bond issue, and further evidence and arguments will be heard within ten days.

The special representative had to leave early, as the evidence was longer than expected. In all, several witnesses were presented by the remonstrators and by the city administration, which is attempting to float the bonds to remodel the city building, purchase additional fire equipment, and to pay debts that will have to be met soon.

E. J. Myer of the Soller's agency of Indianapolis, underwriters for the insurance companies, was an expert witness on the stand in the afternoon session, being summoned by the remonstrators. The witness was called primarily to show that the water supply at the local plant was not sufficient.

He stated that the supply was short and needed attention. The question of reduced fire rates, of which the underwriters have charge, was brought up. The witness declared that there were three phases of deficiency recorded on the books, against the city of Rushville.

Although summoned by the remonstrators, he proved to be a better witness for the city. The three phases of defects, which keeps insurance rates high, he said, were equipment, water supply and ordinances. He stated that the fire fighting equipment was not sufficient, was under-manned and not properly directed at fires, and that the city lacked ordinances to aid in fire prevention, fire fighting and control during a fire.

The insurance expert admitted that an additional pumper would aid in the efficiency of the department, and afford better protection in the business district.

He was asked by the city if it were not a fact that a few months ago, the agency was consulted in the matter.

UNPAVED STREETS OF CITY ARE BEING OILED

Approximately 40,000 Gallons Will be Used by Street Department—Traffic Lines Painted

DIRECTIONS FOR TOURISTS

Work of oiling the unpaved street in the city of Rushville was started Wednesday, when the first car load of oil was received. The work is under the supervision of the street department, using the equipment owned by the city.

The city will probably use 40,000 gallons of oil this year. The oil costs approximately six cents a gallon, and the expense is paid for by the entire city, and is raised with a two cent tax levied each year for that purpose.

The streets were put in condition for the application of the oil under the direction of E. J. Farthing, street commissioner. The surface of many streets was torn up and smoothed off and gravel was used in filling up holes.

The painting of the white parking lines in the business district is about completed, and the traffic posts have been given a new coat of paint, and the upper glass panels are used to boost Rushville. The Hoosier State Auto association is painting the lower part of the post standards, in order to direct tourists to other cities.

All of the work was being rushed to completion on account of the Fourth of July celebration to be held here, and an effort to make Rushville look its best is being made.

ter of fire protection, to bring about reduced fire insurance rates, and he stated that such was the case.

In this connection, the agency submitted a typewritten report of requirements to change the rate classification, and included in it was a vast expenditure of the water works system, the purchase of additional fire equipment, a fire station in another portion of the city, more men on duty, more fire alarm boxes, more hydrants, and many other items.

At that time, the representative of the agency stated that the improvements would cost between $100,000 and $125,000 and then the underwriters would consider a survey for the purpose of reducing the rates. It was also stated that if the money was expended as recommended, nothing would be guaranteed in the way of reducing the rates, and it was indicated that a survey would likely bring higher rates, because each survey brings out more hazards, not seen before.

It will be recalled that the city council, upon learning these facts, decided to act upon their own initiative, and advertised for bids on a pump, and which now seems to be the bone of contention among a few demonstrators, who the city alleges would evidently rather see $125,000 expended on water works improvements.

William H. Moffett, secretary of the fire department, was the last witness before the special representative had to leave. Mr. Moffett and Howard Barrett, an attorney for the demonstrators, crossed bats that afforded much amusement. When Mr.

Barrett charged the fire department with looking on while the fire burned the Odd Fellows building in January.

Mr. Barrett contended that the local firemen couldn't fight the fire, which he said could have been put out with a few buckets of water at the start, and that they stood on the north side of the building, trying to force the water through a second story window with the fire pressure, and that finally someone tossed a brick through the glass to break it.

Mr. Moffett denied all charges. He was questioned about the steam pumper, in service here since 1893. Mr. Barrett asked him if it wasn't a fact that the engine was rusty and not kept up properly because it wasn't used. He replied that the engine was in working condition. The attorney insisted that it was neglected and asked him if it wouldn't deteriorate from neglect. Mr. Moffett by this time was at the hearing point, and replied, "Any fool would know that." Mr. Barrett asked, "Well do you?"

The affair ended the hearing for the day, much to the disappointment of the large crowd which had gathered.

ered. The special representative stated that he wanted to view the premises, and would finish the hearing here within ten days.

Smith Demonstration Lasts For an Hour and 30 Minutes

singing. The Indiana delegation stood on chairs, Tom Taggart singing earnestly with the rest. There were cheers and applause at the conclusion of the song. Then the Indiana delegation sang their own song alone as the big convention sat quietly.

"Our home is down in Indiana" was put forth with everything the Indians had.

Calling of the roll of states proceeded.

Discussion of a night session for the Democratic convention was under way this afternoon in event the nomination speeches were completed.

Senator Pat Harrison, who was temporary chairman and is one of the convention's steersmen, was moving about sounding out sentiment for such a session tonight. Harrison's idea was that the convention should meet again tonight and take four or five ballots for president before receiving the platform report.

Alaska, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Hawaii were among the standards which fell into the line, in the Smith demonstration.

Now and then from out the bedlam a group of men would manage to be heard in unison—"the side-walks of New York." A band would pass a given point. "East Side, West Side," it played, and then passed from sight and hearing. Just constant, sustained noise swept everything before it.

When the demonstration had been under way for 20 minutes, it was precisely as enthusiastic and loud and unanimous as it was with the opening shriek.

There was real enthusiasm, by hundreds of men and women, only a relatively few of them, however, delegates. Another band—more "Side-walks of New York." For the moment, passing the speaker's stand, the voices of men and women joining in clear and wildly hilarious singing of the famous Tammany marching song. Another band—"East Side, West Side." Every one is marching in the same direction. Everyone yelling, young, old, men, women, boys and girls.

VEILED PROPHETS LEAVE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—Veiled prophets of the Mystic Order of the Enchanted Realm were on their way home today after four days of such revelry as the city has never witnessed before.

Anthony Itner, St. Louis, was advanced to grand monarch at the closing business session. Atlantic City gets the next convention.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION'S FIRST SESSION

Close-up view of the Convention Hall just after the delegates had been called to order by Cordell Hull, temporary chairman. On the platform can be seen Hall, Norman E. Mack, Alfred E. Smith, Cardinal Hayes, Anna Case, noted soprano, who sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," and others who were prominent in the opening session. All delegates and those on the speaker's platform are turned to the left to face the lights for the official picture of the convention. In all of its colorful history, old Madison Square Garden never before held so many notable persons at the same time.

the banker who cashes your check; the man who runs your elevator; the clerk in your hotel; men, women and children, rich or poor, high or low, and you will be told with a convincing unanimity that first in the affection of the people of this state, first far above all others and the power of all others to attain is the man who has been twice honored with election to the governorship of the state of New York.

"These are factors, this is evidence which you as judges or rather as a great jury of fourteen hundred assembled here to render an unbiased verdict, must take into account. You are stewards of a sacred trust. To you has been given the solemn, two fold duty of setting forth anew the principals of our party and of choosing a standard bearer who will at once give the greatest assurance of ability to perform the functions of the chief executive and the greatest assurance of victory.

"To be true to that trust we must be true to ourselves and put from our hearts and mind every sordid consideration, every ignoble personal prejudice and every individual allegiance to anything whatsoever other than the sacred principle upon which our country and our party stands. So, in our final action we shall put aside any appeal to any passion or to any prejudice."

Continuing Roosevelt said: "Here in this state, through the leadership of this governor, governmental efficiency increased so that the executives of other states have done the honor to seek to copy our method. He was author of the budget system. He was a pioneer in the reorganization and simplification of governmental departments. Through it all he has held up and strengthened the system of promotion in the government service for merit only, and the appointment to public office of men and women presuming qualified for their tasks.

"Because of his ideals and methods of government he has won not only the undivided support of his own party but the indorsement of great civic non-partisan bodies of the city and state.

"Give this man the opportunity of wider service and I guarantee he will make the dry bones rattle in Washington and no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of scorn at our executive machinery. And that machinery under his directive force will function not only well but always forward in the vital service of humanity—and that spells the true progressive.

FIRST BLANKS RECEIVED

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—The first bundle of 25,000 adjusted compensation application blanks has been received at the national headquarters of the American legion here. They will be mailed to the posts of the legion in foreign lands. Eventually the legion through its 12,000 posts will handle millions of application blanks now being sent out from Washington.

Klan Move Got Beyond Control

By SENATOR C. C. DILL
(Written for United Press)
(Copyright 1924 by United Press)
United Press Headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, New York, June 26—George Brennan is said to have started a Klan fight to destroy McAdoo but it has gotten away from him.

The Klan demonstration in the convention Wednesday showed that the Klan fight is likely to destroy Democratic victory in November.

Before the convention met, Brennan dared the McAdoo leaders to abolish the two thirds rule. At first they declared they would, but it shook the McAdoo organization to its foundation and the issue was suddenly dropped.

Neither Brennan nor anyone else can stop the Klan fight now.

It is raining through McAdoo territory like a prairie fire and some McAdoo delegates are more bitter at each other over the Klan issue than they are over the differences as to the candidates.

The demonstration for Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana showed that the delegates know the oil scandal revelations are the weakest point in the Republican lines. That thought kills the enthusiasm of all doubtful McAdoo delegates and galvanizes the opposition to him on every side.

The suppression of state standards which passed the speakers stand when Walsh was presented to the convention was simply a spontaneous expression of the delegates appreciation of what Walsh has done for party victory in November.

That demonstration was good for the party. It showed that Democrats appreciate services so well performed.

The Klan demonstration was entirely different. It was passionate, wild and bitter.

The assured harvest:—Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. Galatians 6:7

Sportsmanship

A United States senator knocked down a member of an exclusive Washington golf club on the links of the club the other day.

Of course, any red-blooded man resents an insult, but his senator has been suspended from the club for two weeks, which is construed to mean that he was the offender and that he did not have a legitimate excuse for such tactics.

The incident may have political significance for those who wish to view it in that light, but for a country that prides itself on its sportsmanship, the circumstance is shameful.

Golf is a great sport and is fast gaining a hold on the American public. It is being played every day on thousands of links the length and breadth of the land by men who never find it necessary to resort to pugilism.

Men who are held up before boys as examples men particularly in public life—should observe the courtesies of the game, whether in the senate or on the golf course.

It's a poor brand of sportsmanship that uses its fists on any occasion.

Tax-Free People

With less tax-free bonds, there would be more tax-free people, though public improvements might suffer some in the immediate future.

More than a billion dollars, according to a recent survey, is diverted every year from agriculture and business by bonds, upon the income of which no taxes are paid.

Congress at its next session will have for consideration an amendment to the constitution which provides for taxing the income for future issues of state and municipal bonds by the federal government.

It also provides that states may tax the income from future issues of government bonds that are owned within their borders.

This is a knife that will cut both ways. It means that if the income from tax-exempt bonds of states and municipalities is taxed by the federal government, the states will retaliate by taxing federal bonds.

If this amendment is passed, agriculture and business will thrive as never before, because the tax-exempt bond is depriving industry of needed capital and shifts a heavier tax burden upon agriculture and business.

The Park Boulevard

The city administration won a victory in circuit court Wednesday when Judge Sparks decided that the park boulevard should not be stopped. To the layman, unversed in the law, the movement seemed ridiculous.

The city council had issued bonds, sold them, bought Memorial park and still had a balance of $12,000, which the bond ordinance specified

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK, June 26—The Democratic committee, in preparing for the New York convention, foresaw a long-drawn-out siege. Tickets of admission to the big battle carry coupons for 15 days. This provides for a longer session than that attending the record deadlock in Baltimore in 1912 when Champ Clark, with a majority vote in his favor, was unable to pile up the necessary two-thirds and went down to defeat when the deadlock broke in favor of Woodrow Wilson.

Just as Clark held a majority at Baltimore, but lost the nomination, so are McAdoo and Smith likely to hold a majority at some time during the balloting in New York, only to find the necessary 732 votes still beyond attainment.

The accumulating bitterness in the battle between these two camps, each of which will hold a vote at least sufficient to veto the hopes of the other, makes the nomination of either of these first-ballot leaders most improbable.

EARLY maneuvering among delegation leaders makes it appear that Ralston may be the first beneficiary of a considerable part of the McAdoo strength if and when the breakup begins.

Ralston is second choice for a very considerable block of McAdoo delegates, particularly from the middle west and south. The first consideration for these delegates will be the incorporation, in the party platform, of a specific and clear-cut plank dealing with agricultural relief. With such a plank adopted, they feel that Ralston, next to McAdoo, offers the best chance as a candidate who can stand pat on it sympathetically and at the same time hold other elements of support necessary to carry an election.

Next to a real dirt-farmer candidate, such as Davis of Kansas, who could carry none but agricultural states, Ralston is presented as the man most satisfactory to agriculturalists.

If you want to know how hot it is going to be this summer go out in the kitchen and sit on the stove.

A golf ball leaves the club head at about 135 miles an hour, which is about as fast as a golfer leaves the office.

Perhaps time really is money. Any way, time is all some friends spend.

Even if women do have more sense than men you never see a man with about a million buttons on his shirt.

As the candidate spreads his bunk so will he lie.

The hardest thing about just loafing is buying cigarettes on credit.

The height of foolishness is on the same level with the depths of despair.

should be used for a park driveway and other park improvements.

Then someone found out that all of this had happened, though it had been given publicity, and suddenly conceived the idea that Rushville had no right to make any progress; was not entitled to grow, but must worry along in the same old rut all the rest of its days.

But people who have a vision for a larger and more beautiful Rushville, with Memorial park, the park boulevard and the new park building addition, are making it possible for Rushville to grow.

And Rushville will not grow unless there is a pattern to follow—a goal. Rushville has developed and improved wonderfully during the last decade, though her population has not increased much. When the city makes itself inviting, increased population will be a natural development.

As long as the foes of progress can be kept in the background and toward-looking people are in the majority, Rushville has a chance.

Be Good One For Congress, Too (Pittsburgh Gazette-Times)

General Dawes says he will not talk until he has something to say. A good rule for general use.

That Would Appeal to Us (Toronto Globe)

Perhaps the Soviets think that by the introduction of the five-day week the time between paydays will be shortened.

NEXT to Ralston, the second-line candidate developing early strength that makes him appear as a sizeable factor in the final showdown is John W. Davis, of West Virginia.

Davis, although presented as West Virginia's favorite son, is a New York attorney, with Morgan & Co. among his chief clients. His friends claim he will inherit a large block of the Smith ballots whenever the strength of the New York governor begins to disintegrate. This bequest, however, must come at first from Smith delegates outside New York, for New York's 90 votes will stick through thick and thin to the magnetic man from the East Side. Doubtless they will vote to make the final selection unanimous, should someone other than Smith be the nominee, but they will do so in a daze, scarcely realizing what has happened.

FOR while the following of other candidates can be measured by the usual political considerations, that of Al Smith in his homestate delegation partakes of an emotional fervor that defies analysis.

To then he is the one heroic figure in the convention. They refuse to lift their eyes beyond him even to consider second choice possibilities. They admit of no second choice.

There is a crusading, almost religious spirit in their championship that amounts to worship. Just as the old story of the native New Yorker's geographical horizon ending with the Hudson river was correct, everything west of that being wilderness, so is the political vision of New Yorkers at the convention limited to Al Smith. He is the beginning and the end of their hopes, the only thing they will consider even for a moment.

But, also, just as there is a vast and powerful territory west of the Hudson that is America, there is a large and numerous body of delegates from outside New York who cannot see Smith through the New Yorker's eyes. They see McAdoo, Ralston, Davis, Glass and a half dozen others as equally desirable and equally likely to drag down the coveted nomination.

Mrs. Vera Rogers Testifies in Trial of Husband's Slayers

Boonville, Ind., June 26—Mrs. Vera Rogers was again placed on the stand today at the second session of the trial of Bert Stanton and Thomas Julian, charged with the murder of her husband, Wesley Rogers.

Mrs. Rogers late yesterday identified Stanton and Julian as the men with whom she fought to keep them from beating her husband's brains out with a club.

The slaying was the outgrowth of labor trouble, according to the testimony. Rogers was working in a mine near here while a strike was in progress. He died following an attack on him by union miners.

STRICKEN WHILE RIDING IN MACHINE

Benjamin W. Thomas, 53, of Glenwood, Dies of Heart Trouble Enroute Home From Richmond

FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Benjamin W. Thomas, age 53, of Glenwood, died suddenly about 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while riding in an automobile. He was enroute to his home from a trip to Richmond and suffered a fatal attack of the art disease while the machine was passing through Pershing, Ind., east of Cambridge City on the National Road.

Mr. Thomas and his wife were accompanied to Richmond by their house guests the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas, of Summan, Ind., Rev. Thomas was driving the machine and as they approached the railroad crossing asked Mr. Thomas if there were any trains near. Looking both ways, Mr. Thomas replied "No" and then was stricken. He had been in his usual health and the fatal attack came without any warning.

Deceased had been a resident of Glenwood for the past year. He was a retired farmer and formerly lived at Brownsville and Connersville. He is survived by the widow and one sister Mrs. W. E. Wood who lives north of Connersville.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Christian Union church at Brownsville, conducted by the Rev. A. C. Thomas, of Summan, and burial was made in the cemetery there.

PREPARATORY SERVICES

There will be preparatory services at the First United Presbyterian church tonight and Friday night, for the Communion service on Sunday. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. E. G. Stomach Comfort

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 71
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

The reason poor stomach and bowel action is more distressing to you at this time of the year is due to the fact that faulty digestion and absorption affects the various circulations of the body which must be normal to cope with the heat to which the body is exposed.

If the food is not properly digested when it leaves the stomach, the fluid from the food, or chyme, as it is known, is not normal when it is absorbed into the lymphatic ducts from the intestine. Every tissue cell in the body is bathed in this serum and if it is abnormal, the cells cannot use it as food, but must send it on to the liver and kidneys that it might be eliminated. This causes overworked and congested liver and kidneys. The skin tries to take up the work of the kidneys, but as the excretions are very irritating, any skin disorder may develop.

The liver is the thermogenetic or heat generating center of the body, and the kidneys are the thermolytic or heat dissipating center of the body. Therefore, it is necessary that both function perfectly in order to keep the body temperature normal as it should be for comfort.

FOREIGNERS GOOD IN THE LONG RUNS

By FRANK GETTY
(C. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 26—In predicting an American triumph in the track and field games at Paris in July, consideration has been given to the fact that as the races get longer this country's strength lessens.

In the sprints, the United States is supreme. Four men could acquire the dread "Charley horse" or suffer some other calamity, and we have four other short-distance men to fill their places.

But there are 23 events on the track and field program, and in some of the others America will have to take a back seat.

The French have succeeded in arranging matters so that only four men from any one nation can enter any one event, with exception of the marathon, in which six may start. This means that the most points this country can win in the 100 meters, for instance, is 22.

It would not be surprising if we did get just that many in both the 100 and 200 meters.

In the 400 meters we have J. Coard Taylor's record-breaking run at Cambridge to raise our hopes of ultimate victory and a place at the top of the flagpole, but here the ingress of European stars upon the point-winning places begins.

In the 800 meters, with Bill Richardson, Leland Stanford; S. C. Enck Penn State's great runner; Ray Dodge, Ray Watson and the game, but inexperienced, "Soapy" Waters, the United States is well represented but it is probable that the French, English and other European middle-distance stars will break through the American front here. However, in both the 400 and 800, we have every right to expect that this country will get as many points as all the other nations put together.

Aware of the fact that America's strength was "team strength", with a whole lot of good men around, the powers that were in this 8th Olympiad saw to it that first place counted 10 points, second 5, third 4, fourth 3, fifth 2 and sixth 1. This militates against the United States, but we should worry! We have not only a lot of good men, but perhaps the one best man in the four short races.

In the 1,500 meters and the 3,000 meters, we find our main strength in those sterling Chicago athletes, Mr. Joie Ray and Mrs. Ray Baker, "Ike and Mike" of the Illinois A. C. At Cambridge, Mr. Baker attended to the shorter of the two runs, while Mr. Ray accounted for a first place in the longer.

Unfortunately for these boys, there is a Finn named Nurm, who, if right, and he generally is, can run them into the ground one after the other. And Johnny Romig, our best at 5,000 meters, and Verne Booth, in the 10,000 meter event, are likely to encounter trouble in this same direction.

BACK FROM TORONTO

Mr. and Mrs. Will O. Feudner have returned from Toronto where they attended the annual convention of Rotary International last week. They were members of the Indiana Rotary delegation, composed of 160 persons, who went to Toronto on the Great Lakes steamer "Missouri," and lived on the vessel all the time they were in Toronto. The convention was the largest in the 19 years history of Rotary.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

The members of the Rebekah Crochet club are requested to meet at the corner of Fifth and Main street Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to attend the funeral services of Mrs. John Lucas in a body.

RESTOCK WITH 5,000 FISH

Streams Surrounding Rushville Replenished by State Department

The streams surrounding Rushville were restocked today with 5,000 fish, sent here by the state conservation department, and constitutes the semi-annual share which is allotted to the streams in and near Rushville.

The shipment included black mouth bass, blue gills and carp. A portion of the baby fish was planted above Rushville near the dam, and others were scattered along the river south of here. The state hatcheries have been forced to limit this year in meeting all requests for fish, and the conservation department regulates the supply, and pays more attention to requests where the game laws are observed.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Marberry kept his team in first place and pitched shutout ball against the Yanks on their home grounds after Ruth had made the longest home run of his career in the first inning and three other Yanks had singled.

The Giants had tied the score in their game with Brooklyn in the first of the eighth, but rain ended it, and the score reverted to the seventh, the Dodgers winning 3 to 2.

Detroit staged a rally in the third, beat the Browns 3 to 2 and moved up into second place.

The Phils and Braves divided a double header, Philadelphia taking the first 9-8 in 10 innings and the Braves won the second 4-1.

St. Louis took the opener from Cincinnati 3-2 but dropped a pitcher's battle in the second 2-1.

Housers homer tied the score for the A's in the 9th but Ike Boone, Boston pinch hitter, won the game anyway 4-3.

The White Sox gathered a brace of victories from Cleveland 2-1 and 8-1.

Pittsburgh and Chicago went 14 innings before the Pirates won out 8-7.

A Score of Features to Explain These Results

The Phaeton

Among Chrysler Six features which contribute to its long life and operating economy, is the centrifugal air cleaner which purges the air taken in by the carburetor. This cleaner effectually protects the cylinders and pistons from the entrance of fine, gritty dust. Of equal importance is the Chrysler oil filter, which thoroughly cleans all the oil in the crankcase every 25 miles, and contributes much to smoothness, freedom from carbon, and longer life of rotating and moving parts.

The Touring, $1395 The Phaeton, $1495
The Roadster, 1625 The Sedan, 1725
The Brougham, 1895 The Imperial, $995
All prices f. o. b. Detroit; tax extra.

Every one who has familiarized himself with the new Chrysler Six and its extraordinary performance is convinced that this car turns the leaf of the automobile calendar many years forward.

The engine design embodies a new type of combustion chamber that burns all the gas. Also a new way of distributing the gas equally to all cylinders. A score of other features must be taken into account to explain why an engine only 3-inch bore by 4 3/4-inch stroke delivers 68 horsepower, top speed well over 70 miles an hour, and a pick-up that is electrifying.

All these things you'll understand better when you ride in the car. You'll find, also, an amazing amount of room, and an ease of handling and parking that is a constant delight.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

PREFERRED PICTURES

The Rebekah lodge will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Modern Woodman hall and all members are urged to be present.

Miss Mary Ruth Jenken left this morning for Crawfordsville, Ind., where she will attend the wedding of Miss Helen Custer and R. A. Dunbar this evening.

Miss Virginia Carter entertained a number of girls Wednesday morning with a breakfast party at her home in North Morgan street, honoring her birthday anniversary.

The Progressive Boosters Class of the First Baptist church enjoyed an outing and picnic supper Wednesday evening at Green's camp northeast of the city. A delicious repast was served and was enjoyed by the members and their families.

Mrs. Ben Hammes entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home south of the city. Besides the members present, Mrs. Edwards, of Panama, who is spending several weeks in this city was a guest. Delicious refreshments were served following the card games.

The members of the W. W. T. class of the First Baptist church and their friends enjoyed a wiener roast and marshmallow toast Wednesday evening at the home of Robert Trager south of the city. A most enjoyable evening was spent around the bonfire, playing games, storytelling and with ukelele music.

Miss Clara Mabel Snideker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Snideker and Kenneth Lyons Jobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jobe both residents of Fayette county, were quietly married Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the Main Street Christian church parsonage, the Rev. L. E. Brown officiating.

The Misses Louise Pitman, Dorothy Logan, Pauline Patton, Louise Davis, Helen Overleese and Meriam Winship were entertained to a delicious dinner party Wednesday noon at the home of Miss Alice Anderson near Milroy. In the afternoon they motored to McCoy's Lake near Greensburg and spent the afternoon and then the girls returned to the home of Miss Winship and had supper.

The clerks and officials of the Mauzy Company department store motored to Comersville Wednesday evening and were delightfully entertained with a pitch-in supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Michaels. Mrs. Michaels was formerly Miss Mary Ellen Carroll of this city, and a former clerk at the store. Following the serving of the supper, the guests spent the remainder of the evening socially.

Mrs. Floyd Kirklin and Mrs. Fred Aybuckle went to Greensburg this morning to attend the two day mid-summer convention of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, which convened today. Over fifty delegates and grand officers representing chapters of the sorority in Indiana and Ohio, were expected. The sessions will be held in the American Legion Hall, which has been appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Miss Mildred Hungerford was delightfully surprised at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hungerford Wednesday, when the members of her Sunday school class gathered to remind her of her fourteenth birthday. A pitch-in dinner was enjoyed by all. Those present were the Misses Helen Hungerford, Pauline Piper, Dorothy Myers, Lorene Myers, Dorothy Reed, Helen Gonnell, Marilyn Hungerford, Deloris Hasty, Ael Alter, Ruth Moore, Doris Whittinger, Maxine Hungerford, Mary Albert, Geraldine Hungerford and Glen Hungerford, Robert Hasty, Garland Whittinger and Edward Jones. The day was enjoyed socially.

ALL NOT PEACEFUL IN THE COMMITTEE

plete but for planks on the League of Nations and the Ku Klux Klan. These vexatious issues remained to be ironed out today.

Although alternative planks representing the extreme and moderate views on both League and Klan have been drafted, the adoption of compromise declarations on both issues by the committee was virtually assured.

That means the final decision will be squarely up to the convention itself. Whether the extremists make good their threats to "carry the fight to the floor" remains to be seen, but leaders generally believe such action will be forestalled.

The sub-committee today resumed consideration of the alternative league and Klan planks drafted by Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, chairman of the resolutions committee, and eSenator Key Pittman of Nevada, secretary, who were appointed to do the work. Cummings said he believed the platform as a whole, could be submitted to the full committee by night but that it probably would not be laid before the committee before tomorrow.

The Klan plank which meets with almost unanimous favor in the committee is a vigorous denunciation of all secret organizations which seem to impair racial and religious freedom but does not mention the Klan by name.

It was agreed that it would be political folly to single out the Klan for specific denunciation, thus "reading out of the party" all members of the order.

Three members of the committee, however, had been instructed to fight to the last for a plank denouncing the Klan by name. To satisfy them an alternate plank along this line was drafted for submission to the full committee but all indications are that if the Klan is to be named in the platform, those advocating such procedure will have to make good their threat and carry the fight to the convention floor for the resolutions committee will not make such a report.

The wet "bombshell" proved to be a dud. Agitation for a wet plank fizzled out quickly. This plank, as adopted, calls for strict law enforcement and goes further in administering a stinging rebuke to the Republican administration for failure to properly enforce the dry law. It was adopted with little opposition.

A new plank insofar as Democratic platforms are considered, provides for a referendum on war. This was written into the platform by Wm J. Bryan. It would also amend the Constitution which gives the president the right to declare war with the consent of congress and place such power entirely in the hands of the people.

The League of Nations proved to be the most troublesome subject the committee had to wrestle with. The plank which has the general approval of the committee is a definite compromise between the ideas advanced by former Associate Justice Clark, of the Supreme Court and Owen D. Young, colleague of General Dawes on the German reparations report.

The league plank reaffirms Woodrow Wilson's belief in the league as the most effective instrument to prevent war, and advocates a referendum, independent of any political election upon the question of America's entrance into the league and world court. The plank would safeguard this country's interest through reservations on the league covenant, upholding the Monroe doctrine and leaving the United States free from entanglement in foreign wars.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts sponsored a plank which was adopted providing for government regulation of the anthracite coal industry and other necessities of life when controlled by monopolies. Another Walsh plank, which has long been urged by Senator Norris, Nebraska, would eliminate "lame ducks" from congress. Under the Constitutional amendment proposed, congress would assemble January 1, following election instead of December a year following, as now provided.

Constitutional amendments would be submitted directly to the people instead of the legislatures, under another plank adopted. That has also been urged by Republican progressives.

The agricultural plank modeled along the general lines suggested by Bernard M. Baruch contains a number of reforms designed to increase the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar. It promises to re-open foreign markets to farmers, to adjust the tariff to cut the cost of living and agricultural production, to lower freight rates, to create a co-operative marketing system and restore prosperity.

The platform as tentatively drafted covers nearly forty subjects.

MOVIES

"Why Worry" At Princess

The possibilities for farce comedy in a South American revolution have been seized by Harold Lloyd and exploited in "Why Worry?", his new Pathecomedy showing today at the Princess theatre. It is pure farce plus the Lloyd personality and production atmosphere.

"Why Worry?" was written by Sam Taylor, assisted by Ted Wilde and Tim Whelan. Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor directed. The picture introduces Jobyna Ralston as Lloyd's leading woman. A figure in the case that is new to the screen is John Aasen, declared to be the biggest man in the world. He is 8 feet, 9 1/2 inches tall and weighs 460 pounds—without his shoes. These are said to give John Aasen an avoirdupois "on the lot" rounding out the figure to 500. It can easily be imagined this human mountain makes a highly diverting foil for the slender and agile Lloyd throughout the action of "Why Worry?"

12 Stars In Picture

The call for better pictures has been answered this week by the manager of the Castle theatre in the form of William MacHarg's popular story "Roulette," which opened a two day engagement last night.

Here is a picture that has everything that is necessary for a perfect evening's entertainment, cast, story, continuity, length and the proper amount of tense, thrilling scenes. You are on the edge of your seat per amount of tense, thrilling scenes, screen wondering what will happen next and when the climax comes you feel as though you had lived the parts of the picture yourself.

Edith Roberts, Norman Trevor, Walter Booth, Maurice Costello, Mary Carr, Henry Hull, Montagu Love, Dagmar Godowsky, Diana Allen, Edie Shannon and Flora Finch all have important roles and each lends his or her own type of personality to make this one of the really worth while pictures of the year.

S. E. V. Taylor deserves much credit for so faithfully reproducing on the screen what another had done with a pen, as the picture vivifies parts of the story that could never be transferred with the pen.

Here's A Good Place To Stay Away From

Sherpsville, Ind., June 26—Locomotive engineers and traction car motormen who speed through this place are liable to a fine of $100 and a jail sentence. The penalty was fixed by an ordinance passed by the city council.

Enforcement of the ordinance has been the source of much worry to peace officers. No offenders have been caught. Police are going to ignore the ordinance or ask the council to buy them a railroad engine and a traction car, with which they may pursue the law breakers.

Possession Not Offense

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—Possession of intoxicating liquor is not on offense against Indiana state laws, even if the liquor was possessed with the intention of sale, the Indiana State Supreme court had ruled here today.

All the judges of the court concurred in the opinion with the exception of Chief Justice Ewabank.

The decision was handed down late yesterday in the case of Cecil Smith, convicted in the Fayette Circuit Court at Connersville of keeping intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale.

The Fayette court was reversed.

Almeda Heizer Ficklin

Born April 6, 1846 and died June 20, 1924, aged 78 years, 2 months, and 14 days. Indiana was still a comparatively new state and considered a part of the Great West when Samuel Heizer of Virginia, married Mrs. Rosanna Rodgers DeMoss of Southern Ohio. Each having 5 children by a previous marriage it was decided that this group of young people would have broader opportunities farther west and a farm in Fairview township, Fayette Co., this State, was selected as the place and so well did they build their new home that part of it is still standing invincible to storms and decay.

As the years went by 7 more young lives were added to this family and 17 children were to be cherished, fed, clothed and educated. But these fine parents were not easily daunted and because of proper training the country inherited, a group of useful, respected citizens later.

It was April 6, 1846 that little Almeda came to occupy her special niche in the hearts and home of these good people. As she grew older she attended the local school and when about 18 years old made her confession of faith and became a member of the Ben Davis Christian church.

The mother was called home when most needed by her family but sturdy young shoulders bent themselves to the burden she laid down, older children caring for the younger and all devoting themselves to the comfort of the father, until he too was called away. When all had established homes for themselves, Almeda—as she was best known—went to live with her sister, Mrs. Amanda Brown.

Quiet, neat, capable, painstaking to a fault, home making appealed to her, and when her beloved brother George lost his wife she went back to the old homestead to care for the two motherless little girls Della and Laura. When they were old enough to care for themselves, she married in 1892, Albert Ficklin a well known farmer of the community and having purchased the old home they established themselves to live a life of peace and comfort for 20 years. It was then decided to retire from active farming and the Glenwood home was chosen, 5 more years of contentment followed to be broken, 7 years ago when a stroke of paralysis brought death very near but unusual vitality and careful nursing partially restored her but she never walked again being largely dependant upon her husband, a capable nurse for obtainable comforts. But the time came when life could not be prolonged and the spirit took its flight from the tired painworn body.

Although so greatly afflicted she never lost interest in her friends and their well being. This splendid church building was an object of pride and she and her husband brought their membership here a few years ago, when unable to attend service it was a very great pleasure to her to have occasional missionary meetings and church services in her own home.

The 10 half brothers and sisters and 1 brother, Marion, have preceded her. The husband, brother George Heizer of Orange, and Mrs. Lizzie Kinder, Mrs. Amanda Brown, Mrs. Eva Reed and Mrs. Caroline McConnell all of Glenwood are the surviving near relatives.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth. Yea saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them".

13 Good Reasons Why You Should Have An Account With This Strong Association

- BECAUSE it is ABSOLUTELY SAFE. We loan on First Mortgages on improved Rushville and Rush County real estate.
- BECAUSE we never go over two thirds the value and generally about one-half.
- BECAUSE with every payment our security gets better.
- BECAUSE WE HAVE NO BAD OR DOUBTFUL LOANS, and if any loss should develop in the future we have a fund of $3500.00 to take care of it. This fund can be used for no other purpose.
- BECAUSE the title to the property is investigated and is "good" before we will accept the loan.
- BECAUSE we require borrowers to carry insurance to protect us in case of loss by fire or storm, usually to the full amount of the loan.
- BECAUSE we are under State Examination the same as Banks and Trust Companies.
- BECAUSE our active officers are under a heavy SURETY Company bond.
- BECAUSE you can deposit to suit your convenience and you can withdraw in whole or in part WITHOUT NOTICE.
- BECAUSE WE PAY 6 PER CENT AND NOT 3 or 4 PER CENT. If not withdrawn this interest draws interest as it is compounded.
- BECAUSE if you do not own your own home, possibly we can help you accumulate enough to make your payment of a part of the purchase price and we can help you with the balance.
- BECAUSE there are many more GOOD reasons and no BAD ones.
- BECAUSE All amounts to your credit Saturday, June 28th, begin to draw 6% July 1st.

Drop in and see us, maybe we can be of some benefit to you.
We will be pleased to see you.

New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and blemishes at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even goitre disappear when used steadily.

SMITH DEMONSTRATION LASTS FOR AN HOUR AND 30 MINUTES

Mention of New York's Governor Touches off Explosion Unprecedented in Convention History

HIS STATE DELEGATION LEADS

From Every Corner of Garden Arises Shriek of Sirens, Blare of Horns, Shouts of Thousands

INDIANA HOLDS ATTENTION

Delegates Sing "On the Banks of the Wabash" After Ralston's Name is Presented by VanNuys

(By United Press.)
Madison Square Garden, N. Y., June 26—"Our own Al Smith!"

The mention of the governor's name touched off an explosion in Madison Square Garden just thirty-two minutes after twelve today unprecedented in the history of the great political convention.

In a solid mass the New York delegation leaped to its feet as Franklin D. Roosevelt concluded his speech placing Smith in nomination. From every corner of the garden there arose the deafening shriek of sirens, blare of horns and whistles and shouts of thousands.

The parade got under way with New York's delegation in the van.

Walsh obtained order at two o'clock after the demonstration had lasted one and one-half hours, and the call of the roll of states was resumed. Senator Thomas F. Baird of Delaware in a brief speech placed in nomination former United States Senator Saulsbury of Delaware.

The call of the roll of states proceeded to Illinois when Lewis Stevenson nominated former secretary of the agriculture and treasury, David Houston.

Indiana was called next on the roll and Frederick VanNuys of Indianapolis mounted the platform and placed in nomination, Senator Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana, the first, second and apparently last choice of Tom Taggart for the presidency.

VanNuys got away to a flying and popular start by saying he would keep his remarks within the limit of a single printed page. His speech was frequently interrupted by scattered applause. Reaching the climax of his brief presentation, VanNuys turned and pointed to a large oil painting of Indiana's favorite son, which was lifted to the speaker's rostrum, introducing Samuel M. Ralston.

In the hand loft "On the Banks of the Wabash" was struck up softly. Miss Anna Case, who has become the outstanding hit of the convention, came forward again and led in the singing.

ROBERT E. MANSFIELD HEADS THE CHAUTAUQUA

Elected President by Board of Directors at Meeting to Prepare for Coming Assembly

DONALD D. BALL SECRETARY

New officers were elected at the meeting of the new board of directors of the Rush County Chautauqua association Wednesday evening and plans for the annual chautauqua in August were discussed.

Robert E. Mansfield was chosen as president, to succeed Walter E. Frazier; J. T. Arbuckle was re-elected vice-president; Donald D. Ball was elected secretary as successor to J. H. Scholl; and Bert L. Traine was re-elected treasurer. Other members of the board are Glen Foster, Miss Nora Sleeth, O. R. Zimmer, Norman Crum, Amos Baxter, and A. M. Taylor.

The board decided to have the roof of the coliseum painted before the coming session and have other minor improvements made, so that the building will be in first class shape for the annual assembly, which is expected to be one of the best ever held in Rush county.

The matter of having the roof painted and other improvements that are needed were referred to the building and grounds committee.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—The official program for today's session of the Democratic convention follows:

Convention called to order by the Hon. Thomas J. Walsh, permanent chairman, at 10:30 a. m., daylight saving time.

Invocation by the Rev. George Caleb Moore of the Madison Avenue Baptist church.

Continuation of roll call by states for nominating speeches for candidates for president.

Resolution for the election of Democratic national committee and national committee women and providing for their tenure of office.

Report of committee on platform and resolutions.

Adjournment.

PLACED RALSTON IN NOMINATION

Fred VanNuys Paid High Tribute to Indiana Senator But Confined Remarks to Short Speech

POSSESSED OF RARE POISE

He is Rugged American of Middle-west, Intrepidly Honest and of Seasoned Fearlessness

(By United Press.)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—Paying high tribute, but confining his remarks to the shortest nominating speech of the day, Fred VanNuys of Indianapolis placed Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana in nomination today. Van Nuys said:

"On behalf of the united and loyal Democracy of Indiana, I desire to place in nomination for the presidency the name of a man who is both available and dependable in this hour of necessity.

In 1912 he was elected governor of Indiana by a plurality of approximately 200,000. In 1920 President Harding carried the state by 185,000. In the last election this man once more changed the political complexion of the Hoosier state and was elected United States senator by 50,000.

"As governor of Indiana he made an unparalleled record for economy and efficiency. He left over $3,000,000 in the state treasury, and the state got out of debt for the first time in 82 years.

"As United States senator he has shown himself possessed of rare poise and purpose. Had he been president of the United States during the long trying months just passed, he would not have remained stoical and silent. He would not have broadcast silence to an outraged and expectant people, but would have led them with a dynamic and not a static spirit of Americanism.

"We know this man from Indiana. We need him at the head of the nation's affairs today. He is a rugged American of the middle-west, intrepidly honest and of seasoned fearlessness.

"On behalf of the nation which hangs expectantly upon the results of this convention, we present the name of Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana for the presidency."

Eight Candidates-Are Placed in Nomination

New York, June 26—Candidates for the presidential nomination who had been formally placed before the Democratic national convention up to late this afternoon were:

Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, William G. McAdoo of California, Governor Smith of New York, David Houston, Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, Senator Ralston of Indiana; Governor Davis of Kansas.

NO ONE CAN THINK OF ANYTHING BUT POLITICS

F. D. ROOSEVELT PLEADS FOR SMITH

Asserting Career Possessed Much of Romance of Lincoln, He Places Governor in Nomination

APPEALS FOR WIDER SERVICE

He Would Satisfy all Classes and Regain Lost Faith of American Public Opinion

(By United Press.)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 26—Asserting his career possessed much of the romance of Lincoln's life, and declaring that it is not the intention of his campaign managers to try and nominate Al Smith by a wave of emotion, Franklin D. Roosevelt placed in nomination the name of "our own Alfred E. Smith."

Pointing to Smith's record in the state as governor and the high regard in which he is held, Roosevelt pleaded:

"Give this man the opportunity of wider service. I guarantee he will make the dry bones rattle in Washington and that no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of scorn at our executive machinery."

Smith would satisfy all classes as president, Roosevelt said, and he would regain the lost faith of American public opinion.

"With him we can win. This governor of ours is the most dangerous adversary that the Republican party ever had to fear and you owe it to the nation to choose a candidate whose name spells victory," he continued.

At San Francisco you who were there, came to know him as one greatly loved by his state, whose personality and picturesque rise to high office produced as you will remember a spontaneous wave of good feeling among the delegates from every section of our land. Today he has become more than a favorite son. He is known throughout the nation as one of the real leaders, of whom millions of Americans regardless of party are proud. It has been suggested that we would attempt to sweep him through to victory at this convention upon a wave of emotional appeal.

Let me assure you at the outset that I shall make no such endeavor. In the very suggestion, however, there is tribute to the strength of this man. There is no need for me to portray the profound love which goes out to him from every class and every section of the community. If you would know what the hearts of the masses hold for him, ask anyone; when you leave this session ask the woman who serves you in the shops;

L. Link Oldest County Crop Reporter in Country

L. Link, president of the Rush County National Bank of this city, is the oldest voluntary county crop reporter for the United States department of agriculture, in the country, according to "The Official Record," a weekly paper published by the department. Mr. Link has been a reporter for 54 years. The current issue says:

Of the 300,000 voluntary crop reporters for the department, composed mainly of farmers, many have been in the organization more than a score of years. Leonidas Link, of Rushville, Ind., has been a county crop reporter for 54 years. Second place on the honor roll of "Old and Faithful crop reporters" goes to W. T. Richardson of Clarksville, Tenn., who has served as a county reporter for 53 years. Among other old-timers are M. W. Williamson, of New Market, Va., and Martin Hoggland, of Hutchinson, Kans., who have 49 years of service to their credit; Adam Davenport, of Cooksville, Ga., who has served 48 years; F. W. Honek, Madison, Minn., 46 years; J. M. Finkle, Lake City, Iowa, 45 years; and Frank Merkel, Berne, Ark., 40 years.

THEY GOT LESS THAN $200

Bandits Would Have Escaped With $25,000, but for Police Arrival

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—Bandits who raided the L. S. Ayres department store early Wednesday escaped with less than $200 loot, the management of the store announced today.

Had the arrival of police been delayed a few minutes the bandits would have escaped with from $20,000 to $25,000 in cash and merchandise they were ready to load in auto when the officers came upon them.

Thomas Thompson, arrested as a suspect stuck by his story today that he had just arrived in Indianapolis from Cincinnati and driven his car up to the curb at the side of the Ayres store when the police pounced upon him.

Officials admitted they had nothing against Thompson but circumstantial evidence.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE CONFUSED

Collision at Perkins and Fourth Streets Causes Damage

A Ford truck, belonging to Ed Haywood and driven by Emerson Warfield struck a Buick sedan, driven by John Wyatt near the C. & W. railroad in Perkins street late Wednesday afternoon causing slight damage to both machines.

Wyatt was coming down the hill at a moderate speed and Warfield, going east in Fourth, turned abruptly north into Perkins and ran directly into the Buick. Bumpers on the Wyatt car kept it from being badly damaged although the front fenders were bent slightly. The Ford truck received the worst of the blow, however it was not badly damaged.

Witnesses said that Warfield was going at a good speed and that he turned the corner with the intention of parking on the left side of the street in order to deliver a package, thus causing both drivers to get confused. Wyatt turned to his left and at the same time Warfield turned to his right causing the collision.

SECOND TRIAL OF BERT WILSON HELD

Some Trouble is Experienced in Obtaining Jury in Case Heard by Special Judge

MAY TERM ENDS SATURDAY

Effort is Being Made to Clean Up Docket so no Cases Will Hold Over Until September

The May term of the circuit court is drawing to a close and the jury was being used today for the last time until next September, as the case of the State against Bert Wilson, charged with the illegal sale of liquor, was being heard before Judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, special judge in the case.

The May term closes Saturday, and an effort to clean up the docket is being made, so that there will be no urgent cases left over until fall.

The case today was being tried for the second time, as when the defendant was tried before, the jury failed to agree. A special panel of 25 jurors were ordered and reported for service this morning, and considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining the twelve men.

Judge Sparks, Wednesday heard the evidence on three divorce suits, granting one decree and taking the other cases under advisement. The case of Eva Stewart against Jackson Stewart was heard, and the defendant defaulted, resulting in a divorce being granted and her former name of Eva Marie Willis, being restored.

Evidence in the divorce suit of Beatrice Dolan against Vern Dolan was heard, and each side presented several witnesses, and Judge Sparks will render a decision later. The same action was taken after the court had heard the suit of Vena Tucker against Charles L. Tucker.

Alvan Clark has been ordered to appear Saturday on a contempt of court charge, following the request for the citation by his divorced wife, who charges that he has failed to obey the orders of the court concerning the payment of support money for minor children.

Judgment amounting to $93.80 and costs has been entered in the case of the International Harvester Company against Bert T. Osborne, the action being on a note.

SEN. ROBINSON MAY RESIGN

Likely to be His Answer to Suspension From Country Club

Washington, June 26—Senator Joe Robinson, Arkansas, suspended from the Chevy Chase Country Club for punching Dr. James Mitchell in the eye on the golf links, may resign from the club, it was believed here today.

While the Arkansas senator has refused to say anything about the incident which occurred when Mitchell and his party "drove through" Robinson and his colleagues, Senators Tom Walsh, Kendrick and Jones of New Mexico, he is known to feel that under similar provocation he would punch anybody, even Mitchell again.

BOND HEARING IS STILL UNDECIDED

Tax Board Representative Had to Leave Early And Will Finish Evidence Within Ten Days

ON CITY $30,000 BOND ISSUE

E. J. Myer, Underwriter's Representative, Proves Good Witness For City, on Fire Equipment

Evidence on the hearing of the proposed $30,000 bond issue was not completed Wednesday by T. P. Tillman, special representative of the state board of tax commissioners, sent here to hear remonstrators against the city administration on their bond issue, and further evidence and arguments will be heard within ten days.

The special representative had to leave early, as the evidence was longer than expected. In all, several witnesses were presented by the remonstrators and by the city administration, which is attempting to float the bonds to remodel the city building, purchase additional fire equipment, and to pay debts that will have to be met soon.

E. J. Myer of the Seller's agency of Indianapolis, underwriters for the insurance companies, was an expert witness on the stand in the afternoon session, being summoned by the remonstrators. The witness was called primarily to show that the water supply at the local plant was not sufficient.

He stated that the supply was short and needed attention. The question of reduced fire rates, of which the underwriters have charge, was brought up. The witness declared that there were three phases of deficiency recorded on the books, against the city of Rushville.

Although summoned by the remonstrators, he proved to be a better witness for the city. The three phases of defects, which keeps insurance rates high, he said, were equipment, water supply and ordinances. He stated that the fire fighting equipment was not sufficient, was under-manned and not properly directed at fires, and that the city lacked ordinances to aid in fire prevention; fire fighting and control during a fire.

The insurance expert admitted that an additional pumper would aid in the efficiency of the department, and afford better protection in the business district.

He was asked by the city if it were not a fact that a few months ago, the agency was consulted in the matter.

UNPAVED STREETS OF CITY ARE BEING OILED

Approximately 40,000 Gallons Will be Used by Street Department—Traffic Lines Painted

DIRECTIONS FOR TOURISTS

Work of oiling the unpaved street in the city of Rushville was started Wednesday, when the first car load of oil was received. The work is under the supervision of the street department, using the equipment owned by the city.

The city will probably use 40,000 gallons of oil this year. The oil costs approximately six cents a gallon, and the expense is paid for by the entire city, and is raised with a two cent tax levied each year for that purpose.

The streets were put in condition for the application of the oil under the direction of E. J. Farthing, street commissioner. The surface of many streets was torn up and smoothed off and gravel was used in filling up holes.

The painting of the white parking lines in the business district is about completed, and the traffic posts have been given a new coat of paint, and the upper glass panels are used to boost Rushville. The Hoosier State Auto association is painting the lower part of the post standards, in order to direct tourists to other cities. All of the work was being rushed to completion on account of the Fourth of July celebration to be held here, and an effort to make Rushville look its best is being made.

ter of fire protection, to bring about reduced fire insurance rates, and he stated that such was the case.

In this connection, the agency submitted a typewritten report of requirements to change the rate classification, and included in it was a vast expenditure of the water works system, the purchase of additional fire equipment, a fire station in another portion of the city, more men on duty, more fire alarm boxes, more hydrants, and many other items.

At that time, the representative of the agency stated that the improvements would cost between $100,000 and $125,000 and then the underwriters would consider a survey for the purpose of reducing the rates. It was also stated that if the money was expended as recommended, nothing would be guaranteed in the way of reducing the rates, and it was indicated that a survey would likely bring higher rates, because each survey brings out more hazards, not seen before.

It will be recalled that the city council, upon learning these facts, decided to act upon their own initiative, and advertised for bids on a pumper, and which now seems to be the bone of contention among a few demonstrators, who the city alleges would evidently rather see $125,000 expended on water works improvements.

William H. Moffett, secretary of the fire department, was the last witness before the special representative had to leave. Mr. Moffett and Howard Barrett, an attorney for the demonstrators, crossed bats that afforded much amusement. When Mr.

Barrett charged the fire department with looking on while the fire burned the Odd Fellows building in January.

Mr. Barrett contended that the local firemen couldn't fight the fire, which he said could have been put out with a few buckets of water at the start, and that they stood on the north side of the building, trying to force the water through a second story window with the fire pressure, and that finally someone tossed a brick through the glass to break it.

Mr. Moffett denied all charges. He was questioned about the steam pumper, in service here since 1893. Mr. Barrett asked him if it wasn't a fact that the engine was rusty and not kept up properly because it wasn't used. He replied that the engine was in working condition. The attorney insisted that it was neglected and asked him if it wouldn't deteriorate from neglect. Mr. Moffett by this time was at the heating point, and replied, "Any d— fool would know that." Mr. Barrett asked, "Well do you?"

The affair ended the hearing for the day, much to the disappointment of the large crowd which had gathered.

The special representative stated that he wanted to view the premises, and would finish the hearing here within ten days.

Smith Demonstration Lasts For an Hour and 30 Minutes

singing. The Indiana delegation stood on chairs, Tom Taggart singing earnestly with the rest. There were cheers and applause at the conclusion of the song. Then the Indiana delegation sang their own song alone as the big convention sat quietly.

"Our home is down in Indiana" was put forth with everything the Indians had.

Calling of the roll of states proceeded.

Discussion of a night session for the Democratic convention was under way this afternoon in event the nomination speeches were completed. Senator Pat Harrison, who was temporary chairman and is one of the convention's steersmen, was moving about sounding out sentiment for such a session tonight. Harrison's idea was that the convention should meet again tonight and take four or five ballots for president before receiving the platform report.

Alaska, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Hawaii were among the standards which fell into the line, in the Smith demonstration.

Now and then from out the bed-lam a group of men would manage to be heard in unison—"the side-walks of New York." band would pass a given point. "East Side, West Side," it played, and then passed from sight and hearing. Just constant, sustained noise swept everything before it.

When the demonstration had been under way for 20 minutes, it was precisely as enthusiastic and loud and unanimous as it was with the opening shriek.

There was real enthusiasm, by hundreds of men and women, only a relatively few of them, however, delegates. Another band—more "Side-walks of New York." For the moment, passing the speaker's stand, the voices of men and women joining in clear and wildly hilarious singing of the famous Tammany marching song. Another band—"East Side, West Side." Every one is marching in the same direction. Everyone yelling, young, old, men, women, boys and girls.

Elected to Membership in Honorary Medical Society

Neff Ashworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ashworth of Connersville a Junior in Indiana Medical school, has been elected to membership in the Medical Honor society, because of his superior record as a student.

This society is known as the Alpha Omega Alpha in the Greek world and has eighteen chapters in the leading medical schools of the United States and Canada. Membership is based entirely on scholarship. Mr. Ashworth is well known in this city, having married Miss Edith Buell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell living east of the city.

VEILED PROPHETS LEAVE

Indianapolis, Ind., June 26—Veiled prophets of the Mystic Order of the Enchanted Realm were on their way home today after four days of such revelry as the city has never witnessed before.

Anthony Hiner, St. Louis, was advanced to grand monarch at the closing business session. Atlantic City gets the next convention.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION'S FIRST SESSION

Close-up view of the Convention Hall just after the delegates had been called to order by Cordell Hull, temporary chairman. On the platform can be seen Hull, Norman E. Mack, Alfred E. Smith, Cardinal Hayes, Anna Case, noted soprano, who sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," and others who were prominent in the opening session. All delegates and those on the speaker's platform are turned to the left to face the lights for the official picture of the convention. In all of its colorful history, old Madison Square Garden never before held so many notable persons at the same time.

F. D. ROOSEVELT PLEADS FOR SMITH

unanimity that first in the affections of the people of this state, first far above all others and the power of all others to attain is the man who has been twice honored with election to the governorship of the state of New York.

"These are factors, this is evidence which you as judges or rather as a great jury of fourteen hundred assembled here to render an unbiased verdict, must take into account. You are stewards of a sacred trust. To you has been given the solemn, two fold duty of setting Fifth anew the principals of our party and of choosing a standard bearer who will at once give the greatest assurance of ability to perform the functions of the chief executive and the greatest assurance of victory.

"To be true to that trust we must be true to ourselves and put from our hearts and mind every sordid consideration, every ignoble personal prejudice and every individual allegiance to anything whatsoever other than the sacred principle upon which our country and our party stands. So, in our final action we shall put aside any appeal to any passion or to any prejudice."

Continuing Roosevelt said: "Here in this state, through the leadership of this governor, governmental efficiency increased so that the executives of other states have done the honor to seek to copy our method. He was author of the budget system. He was a pioneer in the reorganization and simplification of governmental departments. Through it all he has held up and strengthened the system of promotion in the government service for merit only, and the appointment to public office of men and women preeminently qualified for their tasks.

"Because of his ideals and methods of government he has won not only the undivided support of his own party but the indorsement of great civic non-partisan bodies of the city and state.

"Give this man the opportunity of wider service and I guarantee he will make the dry bones rattle in Washington and no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of scorn at our executive machinery. And that machinery under his directive force will function not only well but always forward in the vital service of humanity—and that spells the true progressive.

Klan Move Got Beyond Control

By SENATOR C. C. DILL
(Written for United Press)
(Copyright 1924 by United Press)
United Press Headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, New York, June 26—George Brennan is said to have started a Klan fight to destroy McAdoo but it has gotten away from him.

The Klan demonstration in the convention Wednesday showed that the Klan fight is likely to destroy Democratic victory in November.

Before the convention met, Brennan dared the McAdoo leaders to abolish the two thirds rule. At first they declared they would, but it shook the McAdoo organization to its foundation and the issue was suddenly dropped.

Neither Brennan nor anyone else can stop the Klan fight now.

It is raining through McAdoo territory like a prairie fire and some McAdoo delegates are more bitter at each other over the Klan issue than they are over the differences as to the candidates.

The demonstration for Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana showed that the delegates know the oil scandal revelations are the weakest point in the Republican lines. That thought kills the enthusiasm of all doubtful McAdoo delegates and galvanizes the opposition to him on every side.

The suppression of state standards which passed the speakers stand when Walsh was presented to the convention was simply a spontaneous expression of the delegates appreciation of what Walsh has done for party victory in November.

That demonstration was good for the party. It showed that Democrats appreciate services so well performed.

The Klan demonstration was entirely different. It was passionate, wild and bitter.

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—
Bible thoughts memorized will prove a precious heritage in after years.

The assured harvest:—Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. Galatians 6:7

Prayer:—Lord, may every tree we see, and every plant that grows, and every bit of fruit we handle, and all of nature daily keep Thy truth fresh in our minds.

Sportsmanship

A United States senator knocked down a member of an exclusive Washington golf club on the links of the club the other day.

Of course, any red-blooded man resents an insult, but his senator has been suspended from the club for two weeks, which is construed to mean that he was the offender and that he did not have a legitimate excuse for such tactics.

The incident may have political significance for those who wish to view it in that light, but for a country that prides itself on its sportsmanship, the circumstance is shameful.

Golf is a great sport and is fast gaining a hold on the American public. It is being played every day on thousands of links the length and breadth of the land by men who never find it necessary to resort to pugilism.

Men who are held up before boys are examples men particularly in public life—should observe the courtesies of the game, whether in the senate or on the golf course.

It's a poor brand of sportsmanship that uses its fists on any occasion.

Tax-Free People

With less tax-free bonds, there would be more tax-free people, though public improvements might suffer some in the immediate future.

More than a billion dollars, according to a recent survey, is diverted every year from agriculture and business by bonds, upon the income of which no taxes are paid.

Congress at its next session will have for consideration an amendment to the constitution which provides for taxing the income for future issues of state and municipal bonds by the federal government.

It also provides that states may tax the income from future issues of government bonds, that are owned within their borders.

This is a knife that will cut both ways. It means that if the income from tax-exempt bonds of states and municipalities is taxed by the federal government, the states will retaliate by taxing federal bonds.

If this amendment is passed, agriculture and business will thrive as never before, because the tax-exempt bond is depriving industry of needed capital and shifts a heavier tax burden upon agriculture and business.

The Park Boulevard

The city administration will have a victory in circuit court Wednesday when Judge Spauld decided that the park boulevard should not be stopped. To the layman, reversed in the law, the movement seemed ridiculous.

The city council had issued bonds, sold them, bought Memorial park and still had a balance of $13,000, which the bond ordinance specified

Hunt's Washington Letter
BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Democratic committee, in preparing for the New York convention, foresaw a long-drawn-out siege. Tickets of admission to the big battle carry coupons for 15 days. This provides for a longer session than that attending the record deadlock in Baltimore in 1912 when Champ Clark, with a majority vote in his favor, was unable to pile up the necessary two-thirds and went down to defeat when the deadlock broke in favor of Woodrow Wilson.

Just as Clark held a majority at Baltimore, but lost the nomination, so are McCaDoe and Smith likely to hold a majority at some time during the balloting in New York, only to find the necessary 723 votes still beyond attainment.

The accumulating bitterness in the battle between these two camps, each of which will hold a vote at least sufficient to veto the hopes of the other, makes the nomination of either of these first-ballot leaders most improbable.

EARLY maneuvering among delegation leaders makes it appear that Ralston may be the first beneficiary of a considerable part of the McCaDoe strength if and when the deadlock begins.

Ralston is second choice for a very considerable block of McCaDoe delegates, particularly from the middle west and south. The first consideration for these delegates will be the incorporation, in the party platform, of a specific and concrete plank dealing with agricultural relief. With such a plank adopted, they feel that Ralston, next to McCaDoe, offers the best chance as a candidate who can stand pat on it sympathetically and at the same time hold other elements of support necessary to carry an election.

Next to a real dirt-farmer candidate, such as Davis of Kansas, who could carry more but agricultural states, Ralston is presented as the man most satisfactory to agriculture.

Tom Sims Says

If you want to know how hot it is going to be this summer go out in the kitchen and sit on the stove.

A golf ball leaves the club head at about 135 miles an hour, which is about as fast as a golfer leaves the office.

Perhaps time really is money. Anyway, time is all some friends spend.

Even if women do have more sense than men you never see a man with about a million buttons on his shirt.

As the candidate spreads his bunk so will he lie.

The hardest thing about just loafing is buying cigarettes on credit.

The height of foolishness is on the same level with the depths of despair.

People who think too much of themselves do not think enough.

Trouble with knocking around the world is it knocks you around instead.

They do not shake hands at all in China, and not enough in America.

WIDOW IS AGAIN ON STAND

Mrs. Vera Rogers Testifies in Trial of Husband's Slaying

Boonville, Ind., June 26.—Mrs. Vera Rogers was again placed on the stand today at the second session of the trial of Bert Stanton and Thomas Julian, charged with the murder of her husband, Wesley Rogers.

Mrs. Rogers testified yesterday identified Stanton and Julian as the men with whom she fought to keep them from beating her husband's brains out with a club.

The slaying was the outgrowth of labor trouble, according to the testimony. Rogers was working in a mine near here while a strike was in progress. He died following an attack on him by union miners.

STRICKEN WHILE RIDING IN MACHINE

Benjamin W. Thomas, 53, of Glenwood, Dies of Heart Trouble Enroute Home From Richmond

FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Benjamin W. Thomas, age 53, of Glenwood, died suddenly about 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while riding in an automobile. He was enroute to his home from a trip to Richmond and suffered a fatal attack of the art-disease while the machine was passing through Pershing, Ind., east of Cambridge City on the National Road.

Mr. Thomas and his wife were accompanied to Richmond by their house guests the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas, of Sanman, Ind., Rev. Thomas was driving the machine and as they approached the railroad crossing asked Mr. Thomas if there were any trains near. Looking both ways, Mr. Thomas replied "No" and then was stricken. He had been in his usual health and the fatal attack came without any warning.

Deceased had been a resident of Glenwood for the past year. He was a retired farmer and formerly lived at Brownsville and Connersville. He is survived by the widow and one sister Mrs. W. E. Wood who lives north of Connersville.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Christian Union church at Brownsville, conducted by the Rev. A. C. Thomas, of Sanman, and burial was made in the cemetery there.

PREPARATORY SERVICES

There will be preparatory services at the First United Presbyterian church tonight and Friday night, for the Communion service on Sunday. Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. E. G. McKibben will speak and Friday night the Rev. S. W. Wilson, new pastor at the Mays U. P. church will fill the pulpit.

NERVOUS, RUN-DOWN MOTHERS

Worn Out Caring for Children and Housework—See how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"I was in a very nervous and run-down condition while nursing my baby, and hearing some talk of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began taking it. From the second bottle I noticed a big improvement, and I am still taking it. I am not a bit nervous now, and feel like a different person. It is a great medicine for any one in a nervous, run-down condition and I would be glad to give any one advice about taking it. I think there is no better medicine and give your opinion to publish this letter."

Mrs. ANNA SMITH, 641 W. Norwood Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The important thing about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is that it does help women suffering from the ailments common to their sex.

If you are nervous and run-down and have pains in your lower parts and in your back, remember that the Vegetable Compound has relieved other women having the same symptoms. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Stomach Comfort

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 71
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

The reason poor stomach and bowel action is more distressing to you at this time of the year is due to the fact that faulty digestion and absorption affects the various circulations of the body which must be normal to cope with the heat to which the body is exposed.

If the food is not properly digested when it leaves the stomach, the fluid from the food, or chyme, as it is known, is not normal when it is absorbed into the lymphatic ducts from the intestine. Every tissue cell in the body is bathed in this serum and if it is abnormal, the cells cannot use it as food, but must send it on to the liver and kidneys that it might be eliminated. This causes overworked and congested liver and kidneys. The skin tries to take up the work of the kidneys, but as the excretions are very irritating, any skin disorder may develop.

The liver is the thermogenetic or heat generating center of the body, and the kidneys are the thermolytic or heat dissipating center of the body. Therefore, it is necessary that both function perfectly in order to keep the body temperature normal as it should be for comfort.

FOREIGNERS GOOD IN THE LONG RUNS

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 26—In predicting an American triumph in the track and field games at Paris in July, consideration has been given to the fact that as the races get longer this country's strength lessens.

In the sprints, the United States is supreme. Four men could acquire the dread "Charley horse" or suffer some other calamity, and we have four other short-distance men to fill their places.

But there are 23 events on the track and field program, and in some of the others America will have to take a back seat.

The French have succeeded in arranging matters so that only four men from any one nation can enter any one event, with exception of the marathon, in which six may start. This means that the most points this country can win in the 100 meters, for instance, is 22.

It would not be surprising if we did get just that many in both the 100 and 200 meters.

In the 400 meters we have J. Coard Taylor's record-breaking run at Cambridge to raise our hopes of ultimate victory and a place at the top of the flagpole, but here the ingress of European stars upon the point-winning places begins.

In the 800 meters, with Bill Richardson, Leland Stanford; S. C. Enek Penn State's great runner; Ray Dodge, Ray Watson and the game but inexperienced, "Soapy" Waters, the United States is well represented but it is probable that the French, English and other European middle-distance stars will break through the American front here. However, in both the 400 and 800, we have every right to expect that this country will get as many points as all the other nations put together.

Aware of the fact that America's strength was "team strength", with a whole lot of good men around, the powers that were in this 8th Olympiad saw to it that first place counted 10 points, second 5, third 4, fourth 3, fifth 2 and sixth 1. This militates against the United States, but we should worry! We have not only a lot of good men, but perhaps the one best man in the four short races.

In the 1,500 meters and the 3,000 meters, we find our main strength in those sterling Chicago athletes, Mr. Joie Ray and Mrs. Ray Baker, "Ike and Mike" of the Illinois A. C. At Cambridge, Mr. Baker attended to the shorter of the two runs, while Mr. Ray accounted for a first place in the longer.

Unfortunately for these boys, there is a Finn named Nurmi, who, if right, and he generally is, can run them into the ground one after the other. And Johnny Romig, our best at 5,000 meters, and Verne Booth, in the 10,000 meter event, are likely to encounter trouble in this same direction.

BACK FROM TORONTO

Mr. and Mrs. Will O. Fendner have returned from Toronto where they attended the annual convention of Rotary International last week. They were members of the Indiana Rotary delegation, composed of 160 persons, who went to Toronto on the Great Lakes steamer "Missouri," and lived on the vessel all the time they were in Toronto. The convention was the largest in the 19 years history of Rotary.

RESTOCK WITH 5,000 FISH

Streams Surrounding Rushville Replenished by State Department

The streams surrounding Rushville were restocked today with 5,000 fish, sent here by the state conservation department, and constitutes the semi-annual share which is allotted to the streams in and near Rushville. The shipment included black mouth bass, blue gills and carp. A portion of the baby fish was planted above Rushville near the dam, and others were scattered along the river south of here. The state hatcheries have been forced to limit this year in meeting all requests for fish, and the conservation department regulates the supply, and pays more attention to requests where the game laws are observed.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Marberry kept his team in first place and pitched shutout ball against the Yanks on their home grounds after Ruth had made the longest home run of his career in the first inning and three other Yanks had singled.

The Giants had tied the score in their game with Brooklyn in the first of the eighth, but rain ended it, and the score reverted to the seventh, the Dodgers winning 3 to 2.

Detroit staged a rally in the third, beat the Browns 3 to 2 and moved up into second place.

The Phils and Braves divided a double header, Philadelphia taking the first 9-8 in 10 innings and the Braves won the second 4-1.

St. Louis took the opener from Cincinnati 3-2 but dropped a pitchers' battle in the second 2-1.

Honkers homered tied the score for the A's in the 9th but Ike Boone, Boston pinch hitter, won the game anyway 4-3.

The White Sox gathered a brace of victories from Cleveland 2-1 and 8-1.

Pittsburgh and Chicago went 14 innings before the Pirates won out 8-7.

A Score of Features to Explain These Results

Among Chrysler Six features which contribute to its long life and operating economy, is the centrifugal air cleaner which purges the air taken in by the carburetor. This cleaner effectively protects the cylinders and pistons from the entrance of fine, gritty dust. Of equal importance is the Chrysler oil filter, which thoroughly cleans all the oil in the crankcase every 25 miles, and contributes much to smoothness, freedom from carbon, and longer life of rotating and moving parts.

The Brougham, 1895 The Imperial, 1995
All prices f. o. b. Detroit; tax extra.

Every one who has familiarized himself with the new Chrysler Six and its extraordinary performance is convinced that this car turns the leaf of the automobile calendar many years forward.

The engine design embodies a new type of combustion chamber that burns all the gas. Also a new way of distributing the gas equally to all cylinders. A score of other features must be taken into account to explain why an engine only 3-inch bore by 4 3/4-inch stroke delivers 68 horsepower, top speed well over 70 miles an hour, and a pick-up that is electrifying.

All these things you'll understand better when you ride in the car. You'll find, also, an amazing amount of room, and an ease of handling and parking that is a constant delight.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan.

Miss Mary Ruth Janken left this morning for Crawfordsville, Ind., where she will attend the wedding of Miss Helen Custer and R. A. Dunbar this evening.

Miss Virginia Carter entertained a number of girls Wednesday morning with a breakfast party at her home in North Morgan street, honoring her birthday anniversary.

The Progressive Boosters Class of the First Baptist church enjoyed an outing and picnic supper Wednesday evening at Green's camp northeast of the city. A delicious repast was served and was enjoyed by the members and their families.

Mrs. Ben Humes entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home south of the city. Besides the members present, Mrs. Edwards, of Panama, who is spending several weeks in this city was a guest. Delicious refreshments were served following the card games.

The members of the W. W. T. class of the First Baptist church and their friends enjoyed a wicker roast and marshmallow toast Wednesday evening at the home of Robert Trager south of the city. A most enjoyable evening was spent around the bonfire, playing games, storytelling and with ukulele music.

Miss Clara Mabel Snideker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Snideker and Kenneth Lyons Jobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jobe both residents of Fayette county, were quietly married Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the Main Street Christian church parsonage, the Rev. L. E. Brown officiating.

The Misses Louise Pitman, Dorothy Logan, Pauline Patton, Louise Davis, Helen Overleese and Meriam Winship were entertained to a delicious dinner party Wednesday noon at the home of Miss Alice Anderson near Milroy. In the afternoon they motored to McCoy's Lake near Greensburg and spent the afternoon and then the girls returned to the home of Miss Winship and had supper.

The clerks and officials of the Mauzy Company department store motored to Connersville Wednesday evening and were delightfully entertained with a pitch-in supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Michaels. Mrs. Michaels was formerly Miss Mary Ellen Carroll of this city, and a former clerk at the store. Following the serving of the supper, the guests spent the remainder of the evening socially.

Mrs. Floyd Kirklin and Mrs. Fred Arbuckle went to Greensburg this morning to attend the two day mid-summer convention of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, which convened there today. Over fifty delegates and grand officers representing chapters of the sorority in Indiana and Ohio, were expected. The sessions will be held in the American Legion Hall, which has been appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Miss Mildred Hungerford was delightfully surprised at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hungerford Wednesday, when the members of her Sunday school class gathered to remind her of her fourteenth birthday. A pitch-in dinner was enjoyed by all. Those present were the Misses Helen Hungerford, Pauline Piper, Dorothy Myers, Lorene Myers, Dorothy Reed, Helen Gosnell, Marilyn Hungerford, Deloris Hasty, Acel Alter, Ruth Moore, Doris Whitinger, Maxine Hungerford, Mary Albert, Geraldine Hungerford and Glen Hungerford, Robert Hasty, Garland Whitinger and Edward Jones. The day was enjoyed socially.

ALL NOT PEACEFUL IN THE COMMITTEE

plete but for planks on the League of Nations and the Ku Klux Klan. These vexatious issues remained to be ironed out today.

Although alternative planks representing the extreme and moderate views on both League and Klan have been drafted, the adoption of compromise declarations on both issues by the committee was virtually assured.

That means the final decision will be squarely up to the convention itself. Whether the extremists make good their threats to "carry the fight to the floor," remains to be seen, but leaders generally believe such action will be forestalled.

The sub-committee today resumed consideration of the alternative league and Klan planks drafted by Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, chairman of the resolutions committee, and Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, secretary, who were appointed to do the work. Cummings said he believed the platform as a whole, could be submitted to the full committee by night but that it probably would not be laid before the committee before tomorrow.

The Klan plank which meets with almost unanimous favor in the committee is a vigorous denunciation of all secret organization which seem to impair racial and religious freedom but does not mention the Klan by name.

It was agreed that it would be political folly to single out the Klan for specific denunciation, thus "reading out of the party" all members of the order.

Three members of the committee, however, had been instructed to fight to the last for a plank denouncing the Klan by name. To satisfy them an alternate plank along this line was drafted for submission to the full committee but all indications are that if the Klan is to be named in the platform, those advocating such procedure will have to make good their threat and carry the fight to the convention floor for the resolutions committee will not make such a report.

The wet "bombshell" proved to be a dud. Agitation for a wet plank fizzled out quickly. This plank, as adopted, calls for strict law enforcement and goes further in administering a stinging rebuke to the Republican administration for failure to properly enforce the dry law. It was adopted with little opposition.

A new plank insofar as Democratic platforms are considered, provides for a referendum on war. This was written into the platform by Wm J. Bryan. It would also amend the Constitution which gives the president the right to declare war with the consent of congress and place such power entirely in the hands of the people.

The League of Nations proved to be the most troublesome subject the committee had to wrestle with. The plank which has the general approval of the committee is a definite compromise between the ideas advanced by former Associate Justice Clark, of the Supreme Court and Owen D. Young, colleague of General Dawes on the German reparations report.

The league plank reaffirms Woodrow Wilson's belief in the league as the most effective instrument to prevent war, and advocates a referendum, independent of any political election upon the question of America's entrance into the league and world court. The plank would safeguard this country's interest through reservations on the league covenant, upholding the Monroe doctrine and leaving the United States free from entanglement in foreign wars.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts sponsored a plank which was adopted providing for government regulation of the anthracite coal industry and other necessities of life when controlled by monopolies. Another Walsh plank, which has long been urged by Senator Norris, Nebraska, would eliminate "lame ducks" from congress. Under the Constitutional amendment proposed, congress would assemble January 1, following election instead of December a year following, as now provided.

Constitutional amendments would be submitted directly to the people instead of the legislatures, under another plank adopted. That has also been urged by Republican progressives.

The agricultural plank modeled along the general lines suggested by Bernard M. Baruch contains a number of reforms designed to increase the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar. It promises to re-open foreign markets to the farmers, to adjust the tariff to cut the cost of living and agricultural production, to lower freight rates, to create a co-operative marketing system and restore prosperity.

The platform as tentatively drafted covers nearly forty subjects.

"Why Worry" At Princess

The possibilities for farce comedy in a South American revolution have been seized by Harold Lloyd and exploited in "Why Worry?", his new Pathécomedy showing today at the Princess theatre. It is pure farce plus the Lloyd personality and production atmosphere.

"Why Worry?" was written by Sam Taylor, assisted by Ted Wilde and Tim Whelan. Fred Newmeyer

Almeda Heizer Ficklin

Born April 6, 1846 and died June 20, 1924, aged 78 years, 2 months, and 14 days. Indiana was still a comparatively new state and considered a part of the Great West when Samuel Heizer of Virginia, married Mrs. Rosanna Rodgers DeMoss of Southern Ohio. Each having 5 children by a previous marriage it was decided that this group of young people would have broader opportunities farther west and a farm in Fairview township, Fayette Co., this State, was selected as the place and so well did they build their new home that part of it is still standing invincible to storms and decay.

As the years went by 7 more young lives were added to this family and 17 children were to be cherished, fed, clothed and educated. But these fine parents were not easily daunted and because of proper training the country inherited, a group of useful, respected citizens later.

It was April 6, 1846 that little Almeda came to occupy her special niche in the hearts and home of these good people. As she grew older she attended the local school and when about 18 years old made her confession of faith and became a member of the Ben Davis Christian church.

The mother was called Home when most needed by her family but sturdy young shoulders bent themselves to the burden she laid down, older children caring for the younger and all devoting themselves to the comfort of the father, until he too was called away. When all had established homes for themselves Almeda—as she was best known—went to live with her sister, Mrs. Amanda Brown. Quiet, neat, capable, painstaking to a fault, home making appealed to her, and when her beloved brother George lost his wife she went back to the old homestead to care for the two motherless little girls Della and Laura. When they were old enough to care for themselves, she married in 1892, Albert Ficklin a well known farmer of the community and having purchased the old home they established themselves to live a life of peace and comfort for 20 years. It was then decided to retire from active farming and the Glenwood home was chosen. 5 more years of contentment followed to be broken, 7 years ago when a stroke of paralysis brought death very near but unusual vitality and careful nursing partially restored her but she never walked again being largely dependant upon her husband, a capable nurse for obtainable comforts. But the time came when life could not be prolonged and the spirit took its flight from the tired, painworn body.

Although so greatly afflicted she never lost interest in her friends and their well being. This splendid church building was an object of pride and she and her husband brought their membership here a few years ago, when unable to attend service it was a very great pleasure to her to have occasional missionary meetings and church services in her own home.

The 10 half brothers and sisters and 1 brother, Marion, have preceded her. The husband, brother George Heizer of Orange, and Mrs. Lizzie Kinder, Mrs. Amanda Brown, Mrs. Eva Reed and Mrs. Caroline McConnell all of Glenwood are the surviving near relatives.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth. Yea saith the spirit that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned that the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Ind., at the office of the Auditor in Rushville, Ind., will receive sealed proposals for concrete highway, one thousand six hundred ninety-four and five-tenths feet long, as set out in the plans and specifications, profiles and requisitions now on file in the office of the Auditor.

Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 7th day of July, 1924.

Bids or proposals will be received up to 2 o'clock P. M. on said date.

The said improvement is located in Rushville Township, Rush County, Indiana, and more particularly known as A. L. Stewart et al Highway.

The estimated cost of said improvement is $11,020.00.

Bids will be for the completion of the said improvement in accordance with the plans, profile and specifications in the office of the Auditor, and shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in a sum to double the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by Board of Commissioners. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work, the sureties, if personal, shall be resident freeholders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Rush county.

Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person, persons or corporation who shall suffer any loss or damage by reason of any such bidder failing or neglecting to enter into a contract to perform such work awarded on the bid or to carry out the same in any particular or to pay for any labor or material which may have been furnished to any such contractor or contractor or to any sub-contractor, agent or superintendent under him, in the construction of said work.

Said contract will be let as a whole to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit, such proposal or bid will be rejected and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by Commissioners and successful bidder.

13 Good Reasons Why You Should Have An Account With This Strong Association

- BECAUSE it is ABSOLUTELY SAFE. We loan on First Mortgages on improved Rushville and Rush County real estate.
- BECAUSE we never go over two thirds the value and generally about one-half.
- BECAUSE with every payment our security gets better.
- BECAUSE We HAVE NO BAD OR DOUBTFUL LOANS, and if any loss should develop in the future we have a fund of $3500.00 to take care of it. This fund can be used for no other purpose.
- BECAUSE the title to the property is investigated and is "good" before we will accept the loan.
- BECAUSE we require borrowers to carry insurance to protect us in case of loss by fire or storm, usually to the full amount of the loan.
- BECAUSE we are under State Examination the same as Banks and Trust Companies.
- BECAUSE our active officers are under a heavy SURETY Company bond.
- BECAUSE you can deposit to suit your convenience and you can withdraw in whole or in part WITHOUT NOTICE.
- BECAUSE WE PAY 6 PER CENT AND NOT 3 or 4 PER CENT. If not withdrawn this interest draws interest as it is compounded.
- BECAUSE if you do not own your own home, possibly we can help you accumulate enough to make your payment of a part of the purchase price and we can help you with the balance.
- BECAUSE there are many more GOOD reasons and no BAD ones.
- BECAUSE All amounts to your credit Saturday, June 28th, begin to draw 6% July 1st.

Drop in and see us, maybe we can be of some benefit to you.
We will be pleased to see you.

New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often hurt. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and banches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even goitre disappear when used steadily.
